

Development Committee Member

Public Art Reston is seeking skilled volunteers to join its Development Committee. The Development Committee is a committee of the Board of Directors that helps the Board assure the organization's fiscal health through fund development. It partners with staff to institutionalize the philanthropic process within the Board and its individual members. Members include both Board and non-Board members. All committee members should have a background in at least one of the following: grant writing, finance, business, fundraising, or arts management as well as a familiarity and love of visual and public arts.

The committee meets approximately six times a year and members will serve up to two three-year terms.

Consider sharing your time and unique talents with this community public art non-profit to help foster an interest in past and future public art projects in Reston!

Interested and qualified volunteers should contact info@publicartreston.org for more information.
